

Restaurant owners pleading for Congress's help following Omicron surge

The U.S. economy is growing at its fastest rate since 1984. However the restaurant industry is taking the biggest hit since the pandemic began, especially after the Omicron surge. NBC News' Maura Barrett reports on how business owners are pleading with Congress to do more to keep their restaurants from closing.

URL to feature:

<https://www.nbcnews.com/now/video/restaurant-owners-pleading-for-congress-s-help-following-omicron-surge-132312133901>