

The 13 best restaurants in River North and Streeterville

By: Amy Cavanaugh & Samantha Nelson

River North and Streeterville serve some of the best food in Chicago, including seafood, steak and Mexican

River North and its neighbor Streeterville are among the most popular tourist destinations in the city due to their historic architecture, entertainment venues and views of Lake Michigan and the Chicago River. A huge variety of restaurants ranging from classic Chicago steakhouses to celebrity chef-driven experiences cater to visitors and locals looking for a great night out. If you've got something to celebrate, even if it's just the start of the weekend, get dressed up and head to one of these restaurants, then keep the night going at one of the best bars in River North and Streeterville.

Gene & Georgetti

If it gets any more old-school than this circa-1941 steakhouse, we haven't seen it. The wood-lined dining room features Naugahyde bar stools and a mahogany bar that have hosted celebrities ranging from Frank Sinatra to Will Ferrell. Some of the servers have spent more than 40 years at the restaurant so they can guide you through the menu of Italian classics and signature dishes such as shrimp de jonghe and a garbage salad loaded with salami, provolone and jumbo shrimp.

---

URL to feature:

<https://www.timeout.com/chicago/restaurants/the-best-restaurants-in-river-north-and-streeterville>